RECOMMENDATIONS

"When I started my company, Andriana came up with a great design for my letterhead, cards, envelopes, etc. The reaction from friends and colleagues was overwhelmingly positive.

Andriana met with me and was able to assess my personality and company philosophy. She was always prompt, responsive, and has great follow-through. Her design was perfect for the image I wish to project. I can very easily recommend her for any graphic design project you may be considering."

"I worked with and managed Adriana during our time together at Multicom. She's an excellent graphic designer and quick to finish new tasks."

"Adriana worked for me as a temp during my time at Quebecor World. I was managing a Book Group, which did work on school textbooks for McGraw-Hill. We often found ourselves faced with tight deadlines and needed additional help from temps, to meet our objectives.

I always found Adriana to be an excellent worker. She was very easy to get along with, showed up to work on time, and understood the production process and the various software programs we used.

Unfortunately, some of the temps we received did not have a very good work ethic, but Adriana was the exception. She always came in and went straight to work, focusing on the task at hand through the duration of the project. Delivering quick and accurate results.

Adriana did an excellent job for us and I would highly recommend her for any position."

"I highly recommend Adriana for your graphic design needs. I have collaborated with her on previous projects and have found that she is very creative and her work is timely. Adriana's portfolio speaks for itself. If you need a creative and dependable person, go with Adriana and you will not regret it."

As a graphic artist, we have employed Adriana as a creative talent (freelancer) that outshined all others. Our firm has had many graphic artist relations through the past twenty years. On one project, she was pitted against over a dozen professionals in her field for creativity, balance and overall marketing effect of submitted materials. In competition, the cream rises to the top, and Adriana's work is the most exceptional. It was comforting to know that other artists who saw her finished work had the best of complements (and apparently, that does not come easy in such a competitive field).

Positive Marketing Authorities+!

Our Company is in the Health Care related software development business. Over the past year, we have asked Adriana to help us with Power Point presentations, ads, building signs and just about anything else that needs to "look good" that we are sending to our clients and or prospects. The type of talent and energy that Adriana displays is not found often and I have referred her to several business associates and friends as well.
